On the banking information, the attempt was to revert to the details on file before we switched over to the receiver banking information. Apple does not have further entity information. It does not appear that the attempt was successful so Apple does not have a record of what the new entity information would be.

Nathalie,

We appreciate the update.

Please advise on the identity of the party that attempted to update the entity and banking information. We would also appreciate if you could provide the "updated" banking and entity information to assist in our efforts to prevent the dissipation of Link Motion's assets.

Thanks,

Dov

The image consists of a series of horizontal black bars of varying lengths and positions, set against a white background. These bars appear to be redacted text or heavily processed data. There are approximately 15 such bars, with some being very long and others very short. The bars are not aligned in a single row but are scattered across the page, with some appearing to overlap or be positioned below others. The overall effect is one of a heavily redacted or heavily processed document.
